MESSAGE

I congratulate the Institute of Chemical Technology (ICT), partnered by MM Active Sic-Tech Communications Pvt Ltd. for organizing the event focusing on Sustainable Chemistry & Engineering SusChemE for the first time in India, with the mission of sustainable development of modern societies.

We are immensely pleased to welcome the international experts, business leaders, industry delegates from across India and overseas to Maharashtra, the foremost State in India which is driving India's economy to participate in this event.

The SusChemE event will be an opportunity for industry, academia and the scientific fraternity to broaden their understanding in the areas of Sustainable Chemistry & Engineering & Green technologies and build valuable connections with the global leaders in this field and to apply this knowledge and relationships for building a sustainable environment for industry growth in our country.

My best wishes to the organizers and participants and extend a warm welcome to Mumbai
